And A Little Child Shall Lead Them – Peacemakers' Conference 2016

Joel Lee (National University of Singapore, Faculty of Law) · Sunday, August 14th, 2016

I have in previous entries (July 2012, July 2013 and November 2015) written about a peer mediation initiative called the Peacemakers' Conference. The purpose of the Peacemakers' Conference is to teach 13-16 year olds how to resolve conflicts amicably in a workshop cum competition format. This year's Peacemakers' Conference was held from 22 to 24 June 2016.

In Peacemakers' 2015, we had asked students from different schools to work together to create a visual metaphor for mediation. What the students came up with so impressed the training team (readers can see their visual metaphors here) that we have decided to make this a regular feature of the Peacemakers' Conference.

This year, the students came up with 6 visual metaphors which I would like to share with readers in this entry. Most of the visual metaphors are self-explanatory and I will not add further commentary unless helpful.

1. Mediation is like a Complicated Christmas Tree (with wifi!)

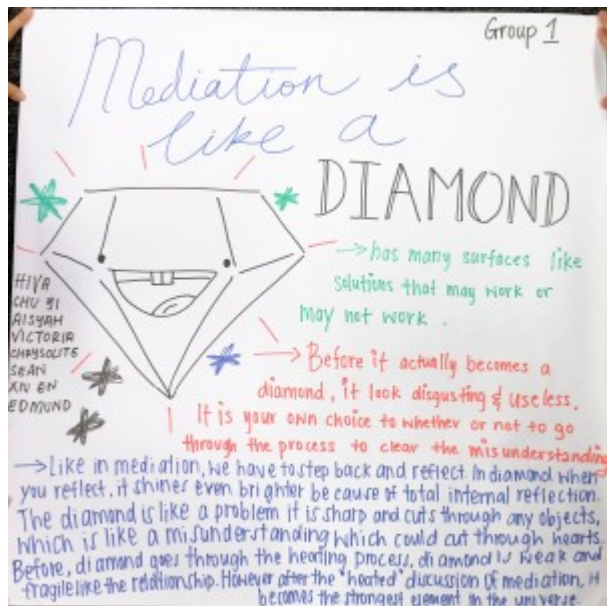

The students saw Mediation as a Christmas tree. The knotted roots represent the dispute or the problem parties experience. The wifi signal is the mediator which seeks to connect the two parties and the ornaments represent the memories and perceptions that parties will have to traverse before

4. Mediation is like a Diamond

5. Mediation is like a Kaleidoscope

I hope readers have enjoyed these visual metaphors and maybe even made some new connections! Until next time!
